

There are millions of advertisements and ways to get peoples attention on whatever a company is trying to sell or promote. Therefore there are millions of OTHER ways for telemarketers to promote or advertise whatever they feel they need to. The mind is a beautiful thing to use. Companies need to stop being lazy and use something called creativity rather than bothering the public at 7 am or 9 pm.